

GAVIRA INSISTS VILLA IS WOUNDED

Juarez Commandant Again Asserts Capture of Bandit is Imminent

GIVES OUT TELEGRAM

Message From General Bertani States Bandit is Hiding Between Bachineva and Satevo

ORDERS MORE MOTOR TRUCKS

EL PASO, Texas, April 5.—The story that Francisco Villa is wounded and that his capture is imminent was asserted again tonight by General Gavira, the Carranza commander at Juarez. General Gavira made public a telegram which he said he had received from General Bertani at Madera stating positively that the bandit had been shot and was in hiding somewhere between Bachineva and Satevo.

Message Confirmatory of Reports.

The message is confirmatory of reports from American headquarters that Villa was definitely located heading toward Satevo. While the story that he is wounded is still accepted here with considerable reserve it is pointed out that several days have elapsed since the fugitive was reported in the neighborhood of Satevo, on his way to Parral and that nothing has been heard since of his movements. If Villa was in full possession of his health and traveling at his usual speed or more miles a day he should have reached and passed Parral by this time, a fact which could hardly escape being reported.

Bachineva is located on the eastern side of the continental divide, about 30 miles from Guerrero with which it is connected by the famous Bachineva pass. It is thru this pass that all accounts agree Villa made his way after the defeat of his followers by Colonel Dodd near Guerrero. From Bachineva to Satevo the trail runs about seventy miles thru a broad, well watered and fertile valley to Satevo.

On each side of the valley, however, there stretches for many miles the wildest mountain wastes in Mexico, a most ideal country for a fugitive. To thoroughly search this district would take weeks according to Americans who are familiar with it.

Reprieves Condemned Men.

Considerable mystery is involved in the condemnation to death of the ringleaders of the alleged plot to seize Juarez and their sudden reprieve at midnight by General Gavira. Both General Gavira and Consul Garcia have alternately discredited the plot as that of Villa bandits and Diaz adherents. As the Villa and Diaz forces represent opposites in Mexican politics, Villa being the so-called champion of the peasants and Felix Diaz representing the property and clerical classes, there is a good deal of speculation in El Paso as to the details of the plot. The Mexican officials refuse to discuss the matter. The plot was supposed to have been hatched in El Paso but the authorities here deny any knowledge of it. Fifteen Mexicans suspected of being Villa followers were arrested here today and are being held for investigation.

Center on Diplomatic Aspects.

Washington, April 5.—In the absence of further news of fighting in Mexico between the American forces and Villa bandits, attention of officials here today centered upon the diplomatic aspects of the punitive expedition.

Information of the war and state departments regarding use of the Mexican railways to ship supplies to General Pershing was conflicting. The war department had no reports indicating that Carranza authorities at Juarez had received orders to accept shipments from General Funston.

Secretary Lansing at the state department, however, said he understood such orders had been issued. Mr. Lansing also declared he thought the difficulty was physical, not political and was due largely to the disorganized condition of rolling stock and road bed of the Mexican North-western.

Some officials still were inclined to connect the delay in permitting use of the railroads with a desire on the part of Carranza to see the American soldiers back on their own territory. Already, it is understood, de facto government officials on the border have made informal inquiries as to how much longer the expedition will remain in Mexico and how much further southward it expects to penetrate. As, legally, the United States now pursuing a "hot trail" it would occasion no great surprise here if Carranza should suggest soon that the trail had gotten cold and ques-

CAMPAIGN CHANGES APPEARANCE OF MEN

COLONEL DODD'S TROOPS A "NON-DESCRIPT LOOKING CROWD"

Vivid Picture of Soldiers as They Were Four Days Ago is Brought to Columbus in Arrival of a Truck
Train from the Front.

Columbus, N. M., April 5.—Three weeks of man hunting thru the desert and mountains of Chihuahua has totally changed the physical appearance of the smart cavalrymen who crossed the border under Colonel George Dodd near Culberson's ranch. A vivid picture of the soldiers as they were four days ago was brought to Columbus today in the arrival from the front of a truck train which carried supplies to Colonel Dodd's command.

Men, whose shoes have been lacerated by the stones from mountains and sands of the deserts are wearing Mexican sandals and sandals made from the hides of horses slaughtered for their meat. Men whose clothing has been torn into shreds by brush with mesquite and cactus are wearing such clothing as could be obtained from Mexicans living along the route, according to the stories told.

Substantiating these stories a message came to military headquarters from General Pershing today, requesting that the extra kits, containing extra clothing of the soldiers of the Seventh and Tenth Cavalry regiments, the two regiments at the extreme front, be rushed to them at once.

A truck train under the command of Captain C. B. Drake, consisting of 27 trucks went to within seven miles of Guerrero, its crew being the first Americans to meet the troops of the Seventh Cavalry after their engagement at that town.

"The men were a nondescript looking crowd," said Captain Drake. "Their faces were caked with gray alkali dust. They had been without regular rations for some days, coffee, salt and tobacco were beyond price and yet thru their haggard distress, the men smiled with their eyes and told of their resolute purpose—the getting of Villa."

Captain Drake also told of reports current thruout the Guerrero country that the American troops obtained their information that Villa had been wounded from an American physician taken captive by the bandit hand and forced to treat the leader's wounds. He asserted that he did not learn the name of this physician who was said to have been a resident of one of the towns thru which Villa passed and described the wounds as consisting of a bullet thru the ankle and another lodged in the hip.

The returning truckmen were able to give few details of the Guerrero battle but asserted that all of the four wounded American troops were again continuing the hard ride after Villa on the second day following the engagement.

With but two days' rations when they left the border the troops pushed steadily forward day and night, never even stopping to await food, but trusting to the country to provide them with sustenance, according to the stories brought here. Finally leaving all lines of communication far behind and reaching a country in which agriculture has been at a standstill for five years because of military strife, the soldiers were forced to depend almost exclusively upon such beef and game as they could slaughter.

One truckman asserted that a soldier had told him that some of the marches were made at such speed that the men had no time to stop and cook the meal and as a result ate it raw. This story however is not generally credited here. Despite the orders to "spare nothing but horse flesh" the march has been exceedingly hard on the animals attached to the command, according to today's arrivals. Dead American Cavalry horses worn out and killed in the relentless pursuit of Villa, were said to be strewn along the trails in the district south of Nantiquipa. In fact it was asserted that the command had lost so many horses that fully one half of it has been obliged to continue the search for Villa without mounts.

The morale of the troops was described as being excellent.

Today's arrivals asserted that General Pershing, Colonel Dodd and the other commanders of the American advance are taking every precaution against possible uprisings of irresponsible Villa sympathizers. To prevent possible outbreaks against the Americans, detachments of United States troops have been stationed in all places not garrisoned by Carranza, they said.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR OUTLINES ATTITUDE

States Peace on Basis of Destruction of Military Power is Impossible

INFANTRY QUIET IN WEST

Germans Take Up Offensive and Are Heavily Attacking the Russian Positions

BRITISH TAKE TURK POSITION

The German imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg in outlining the attitude of Germany before the Reichstag, declared that any suggestions of peace on the basis of destruction of the Prussian military power would make possible only one answer, the German sword.

If Armenians adversaries desired to continue the slaughter of men and the devastation of Europe the guilt would be their's he said.

Infantry Quiet on West Front.

For a moment the infantry on both sides is quiet everywhere along the western front in France. On the much disputed sectors around Verdun the only activity has been an intermittent bombardment in the region of Douaumont and Vaux. This rather unprecedented calm follows a successful offensive undertaken by the French in which they recaptured some of their lost ground and drove the Germans back.

On the eastern line in Russia the Germans have taken up the offensive and are heavily attacking with infantry and artillery the Russian positions. Unofficial advices from Petrograd say however, that the Germans nowhere have been able to penetrate the Russian line in frontal attacks.

The Italians and Austrians are continuing their operations along the Austro-Italian front but no important changes in positions have occurred.

British Capture Umm-El-Henna.

The British in Mesopotamia have captured an important Turkish position at Umm-El-Henna on the Tigris river, 20 miles below Kut-El-Amara. This victory is considered in London as giving hope for the early relief of the British forces who have been besieged in Kut-El-Amara since last December. The Russians also are successfully operating against the Turks in the Caucasus and Persian regions.

A British patrol boat has picked up off the Orkney Islands, Scotland, the Brazilian Steamer Sandanba de Gama, bound from Para, Brazil for New York with a cargo of rubber. As the steamer was several thousand miles out of her course the British are inclined to the belief that she was attempting to run the blockade.

Outlines Attitude of Germany.

Berlin, April 5.—By wireless to Sayville—When the Imperial Chancellor Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, arose today to deliver his pronouncement on the attitude of Germany with respect to the war, the Reichstag presented the aspect of former great days, when some question of great national import was to be discussed. All the members were present and the galleries were crowded. Among the foreign diplomats were the American ambassador, James W. Gerard; the Argentine minister Dr. Lewis Molina; the Dutch minister, Baron Gevers and the Greek minister, N. G. Theotoky. A hush of expectancy was upon the house when the chancellor began, but after his introductory words he was interrupted by an outburst of applause and through his long speech, which was a notable one, he was listened to with rapid attention and was frequently greeted with cheers.

The chancellor reviewed the military situation and showed that thruout all the fighting Germany's progress had been steady and certain. He declared that Germany was at war only to preserve her existence and to hold back her enemies from the German frontiers.

Germany has been threatened, he said, with annihilation, with partition of her realm, with destruction of her essential political and economic forces and the answer to any suggestions of peace on the basis of destruction of Prussian military power was the German sword.

No Aggressive Aims Against America.

Germany had no aggressive aims against the American continent and she was not fighting for new territory. The new Europe which would arise out of the war, he said, cannot resemble the past. Whatever it might be, it must be for the nations that inhabit it—a land of peaceful labor. "The peace which shall end this war shall be a lasting peace," said the chancellor.

One of the most important of the imperial chancellor's utterances had to do with Belgium.

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 5.—Discussion of the legislative outlook occupied the attention of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois here today, in the first of four conferences scheduled for as many cities in the state. Addresses were made by F. Scott McBride, superintendent, and E. F. Ebbert.

Attention was called to the announced program of the liquor forces as promulgated by Anton Carnak, head of the United Societies of Chicago, that the "wets" would have control of the next legislature. Mr. Ebbert gave it as his opinion that the next legislature would either be distinctly wet or distinctly dry and that the question would be settled mainly at the primaries. The conference did not make any legislative endorsements today but the situation in several districts was the subject of report and early action in that respect is promised.

WOMAN IS FOUND BEATEN AND HACKED TO DEATH IN HER HOME

CHICAGO, April 5.—Mrs. Agnes Middleton, a widow, living in the northwestern section of the city, was found beaten and hacked to death in her bed room today. A blood-stained razor was found, but no instrument which would explain blows on the front and back of the head that had fractured the skull in each instance.

The door of the bedroom was locked, but an open window explained the egress of the murderer or murderers. Later the police detained for examination Gustav Deutschman, a musician and for four years a roomer in the house, and Fred Engel, a moving picture theater owner, said to have been an admirer of Mrs. Middleton.

George Middleton, a business man and husband of the woman found murdered today, was found in the home two years ago shot to death. The police pronounced it a case of suicide, but are now inclined to the opinion that Middleton was murdered.

In a statement today Dr. MacFarland said both the entente powers and the Teutonic allies have definite plans for the next few months.

WILSON AND LANSING DISCUSS SITUATION

Evidence Indicates U-Boats Caused Recent Marine Disasters

NO WORD FROM GERMANY

French Naval Officer Gives Graphic Account of Wreck of the Channel Steamer Sussex

STATES VESSEL TORPEDOED

WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Wilson discussed with Secretary Lansing tonight the situation growing out of the accumulation of evidence indicating that German submarines were responsible for the numerous recent marine disasters in which the lives of American citizens have been lost or endangered. Dispatches received today containing the reports of the naval attaches at London and Paris regarding the explosion which damaged the British Channel Steamer Sussex and other messages regarding the attacks upon the British Steamship Berwindale, and the bark Bengairn, were before the president.

Secretary Lansing declined to divulge the contents of the despatches. All reports from abroad have indicated that the evidence gathered by the attaches tended to prove that the Sussex was torpedoed.

So far no word has come from Germany in response to Ambassador Gerard's inquiry at the foreign office. First official information regarding the attack upon the bark Bengairn was received today by the state department. It was in the form of a despatch from Consul Frost at Queenstown, who reported that the vessel carrying two Americans had been sunk by shell fire after having received "ample warning" and that there were no casualties.

Consequently in this case at least, officials see no ground for complaint by the United States.

Gives Graphic Account of Wreck.

Washington, April 5.—A graphic account of the wreck of the British Channel Steamer Sussex, with the assertion that the trouble started when Day and Syronston went to the assistance of an aged white man who was being mistreated by negroes. Just as the fleeing negro was overtaken Carter appeared and opened fire.

Dentist Declares He is Sane and De-

New York, April 5.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite in a talk with newspapermen at Bellevue Hospital today expressed remorse for the death of his father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, whose murder he has confessed and declared that he was ready "to pay the price."

He also said that he had no accomplices in the crime.

"I don't want in anyway to evade anything I have done," he said. "If any word uttered by me now could save me I would not utter it. I want to pay the price. Society expects me to pay the penalty and I suppose I'll have to."

When asked regarding his own ideas of his sanity he said:

"Of course I am sane. There has been no thought of anything else in my mind."

The young dentist denied that he took the drugs from the effects of which he is still suffering with any suicidal intent.

In reply to questions Dr. Waite declared:

"I am not a bigamist. I have had only one wife."

The prisoner's condition is still very weak and for that reason he has not yet been told that his wife has petitioned for a divorce.

"There wasn't any definite idea of getting a large amount of money," Waite answered in reply to a question as to whether his motive was to acquire riches. He did not explain, however, what his motive was. Waite refused to say anything further about the man from Egypt the evil side of a dual personality he recently told the district attorney possessed him.

"Dr. Gregory knows why," he explained.

Dr. Gregory is head of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue Hospital.

U. S. SAILOR AND MARINE PRIVATE ARE KILLED IN NORFOLK BY NEGRO

NORFOLK, Va., April 5.—C. E. Day, ordinary seaman from the battleship New Hampshire and Charles Syronston, a marine private from the naval hospital here, were shot and killed here tonight by a negro named George Carter. The negro escaped and had not been located up to a late hour. Many of the New Hampshire's sailors were ashore and to guard against a riot the commanding officer sent detachments of marines to round them up.

Several suspects were arrested by the police and their appearance at headquarters was the signal for a threatening demonstration by groups of sailors. This resulted in an order for rounding up all seamen ashore.

Sailors said the trouble started when Day and Syronston went to the assistance of an aged white man who was being mistreated by negroes. One of the negroes, a brother of George Carter, fled and was pursued by several sailors.

Just as the fleeing negro was overtaken Carter appeared and opened fire.

DEBATE VOLUNTEER PROVISION OF BILL

Advocates of Plan Believe Section is Saved By Narrow Margin

FAIL TO REACH VOTE

Chamberlain Denounces Attempts of National Guard to Interfere With Legislation

PREDICT UNIVERSAL TRAINING

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Advocates of the federal volunteer provision of the senate army bill believed the section had been saved by a narrow margin when the senate recessed tonight without having reached a vote on the Lee amendment to strike it out. Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee again asked that action be deferred as one or two senators still desired to be heard.

Chamberlain Defends Provision.

Debate on the volunteer provisions lasted all day, champions of the national guard supporting the amendment occupying most of the time. In the closing hour however, Senator Chamberlain vigorously defended the provision as vital to any military plan and denounced attempts of national guard organization to interfere with legislation. He was joined by Senators O'Gorman and Williams in warning the senate that at the close of the European war the United States would need a great navy and an adequate army to back her demands upon the belligerent powers for indemnification for the losses sustained thru violations of her rights as a neutral.

"As surely as the sun rises tomorrow morning," Senator Williams said, "unless this country put itself into a condition where it can resist and withstand bullying, we are going to be in trouble with the victor in this war unless we surrender the positions we have diplomatically taken and timidly submit to the rule which the victor may lay down for immunity or disclaimer."

Senator Williams declared that while increasing the army was important, enlarging the navy was of first importance. The senator said he would vote to increase any building program that might be framed and favored such a navy by 1918 that it could meet and defeat any force that might be started against it.

"This war cannot last more than one or two years," he said. "If it lasts longer than that it will produce universal bankruptcy."

Support Arrangements of Activities.

Senator Chamberlain's arraignment of the national guards' activities was supported by Senators McCumber and Nelson, who called attention to telegrams from national guard officials sent to many senators urging them to vote against the federal volunteer provision.

"If the national guard intends to come here politically and undertakes to control legislation calculated to protect America against the world," said the Oregon senator, "I for one from now on shall favor the elimination of the national guard as a military factor in this country. They have been here and are here for this purpose."

Senator Sherman sought to introduce a resolution to investigate charges of lobbying. Senator Chamberlain said he would favor it when brought up in the regular way, but would not permit it to delay consideration of the army bill.

Senator O'Gorman and Senator Chamberlain both predicted that in the end the country must come to universal military training to solve its army problems.

Military Training in Peoria.
Military training is in prospect for the high school pupils in Peoria. A member of the board of education, who is a believer in this plan as an answer to the plea for preparedness, brought the question before the board. It was practically decided to introduce drills into regular curriculum if it was found that a majority of the parents of the children are in favor of such a plan.

After While.
When the supreme court has decided whether Jacksonville schools are under the special charter or the general law; when the railway and light company has indicated its purpose to accept or appeal from the utility commission finding; when South Main, West State and East State streets are paved, and when the $100,000 bond issue has been authorized, and expended, why, there'll be nothing left in Jacksonville to talk about. But there still may be something to do.

The Day of Big Business.
The largest single check ever recorded in American finance was one given recently by J. P. Morgan & Co. for something more than $70,000,000. The check was made in the settlement for an issuance of bonds that the firm had handled. The story of this check was given about ten lines in the newspapers, indicating how business conditions have changed within a few years' time. Some years ago a check for $15,000,000 was considered so notable that it was photographed and the picture reappeared in the press throughout the country. But that was in the days before the orders for war munitions created a new crop of millionaires in the U. S. and turned billions of dollars into business channels.

A Chance for Good Work.
Farmers who live eight or ten miles from Jacksonville when they hear about the need for more dragging and better roads generally, frequently say, "The country roads are in pretty good condition except those immediately contiguous to Jacksonville. Unfortunately this criticism is well founded. Jacksonville people who drove to the Sheppard sale Wednesday found the road south from the Vandallia road for about two miles in very bad condition, while the roadway farther

SPRING THOUGHTS.
A man grows sick of the walls of brick, and the city's endless roar, when old winter goes, with its frosts and snows, and the springtime at the door. His soul rebels at the city's smells, and he says to himself, says he, "There are banks of thyme with a scent sublime, and the woodland's calling me!" His soul revolts at the jars and jolts that the urban dwellers know, at his sordid tasks, when he longs to bask in the glen where the cowslip grows, and he says, "Gee whizz! I am tired of biz, and sick of the sights I see, of the stress and strain for a tawdry gain, when the woodland's calling me!" In all human lives, when the spring arrives, there riseth the wanderlust; and a fellow's dreams are of woods and streams, and the leafy road white with dust. And he heaves a sob as he views his job, from which he won't dare to flee; and he says, "By Hoyle! It is hard to tell, when the woodland's calling me!"

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.
April 6, 1727.—A particularly fierce campaign was being waged between the Illinois and Fox Indians.

south had been dragged and was passable for all kinds of vehicles. Business men of Jacksonville can undertake no work with the promise of better immediate results than in exerting such influence or making such expenditures that every road leading into Jacksonville is put into passable condition for at least a distance of two miles out from the city limits. No doubt this could be readily accomplished if the matter were laid before the road commissioners in the proper way.

A "Scattering Foe."
Interest in the pursuit of Villa by American troops is somewhat lessened from day to day as fewer real facts of the campaign are available. Already the complaint is heard that if much progress is made that the troops must secure from Carranza the right to use more railroad property. And if authority to use the roads is given, there will come the still bigger problem of securing enough soldiers to properly guard the line. A local veteran of the war of the Rebellion expressed a somewhat common view of the present campaign recently when he said, "The trouble is, American soldiers will overtake a group of Mexicans and they will scatter. Then further inland a still smaller group will be found and they will scatter. And the process will keep on until there will finally be just one man, and then he will scatter." A campaign in the mountain wilds of Mexico against such foes will be a long story and without much of an ending.

An Involved Question.
The action of farmers and dairymen in the northern part of the state who are carrying out their threat to cut off Chicago's milk supply until granted a higher price by the milk purchasing association, raises an important question as to the right of the producer to follow any such course. To cut off the city's milk supply absolutely would bring untold suffering and the question is more than one of mere business policy. It has its moral and economic phases as well. The producers have the argument that prices of dairy cattle are high, that feed is higher, and the cost of labor greater by comparison with former times. But they must admit that some of the products of the dairy aside from milk command higher prices, so that they are in some measure sharing in the advance.

There is a large difference between the prices paid the producer and the prices charged the consumer which looks like a profit out of proportion with the transaction. But there are many expenses of doing business which must be charged before the net profit is figured for the retailer. The basis of the disturbance is the old difficulty of too many middlemen between the producers and consumers. When the proper way can be found of getting the producers and consumers nearer together in all lines the cost of living will be lessened.

Packers A Menace and A Help.
Attorneys for western growers and feeders appearing before a house judiciary sub-committee in Washington, demanded sweeping reforms in the packing industry. They declare that their clients are suffering great losses because of the price fixing agreement among the big packing concerns. There is every indication that the packers do control market prices of livestock but there is nothing about present prices to make one feel especially sympathetic for cattle growers of the west or any other locality. The fact is the prices for all kinds of livestock now with indications of a still further upward tendency.

When a shipper sends a car of stock to a central market he knows that he must accept the price which the buyers offer, for he cannot afford to keep the livestock on the market many days, nor can he afford to ship them back to the country. It grinds the stockman when he happens to strike a market lower than he expected and there is a natural feeling of indignation over his helplessness. But after all, what would stock raising be if the farmer was not certain a market where there would always be a demand. The packers are sometimes undoubtedly guilty of unfair practices but without their great organizations the cattle industry would be in much worse condition than it is now.

The club has more than 100 members and John Dunn is the president and John Easley campaign manager. The meeting was held primarily in the interest of Andrew Russell, candidate for delegate to the National Republican convention but turned into a general republican love feast. Chairman Meyer will preside.

Germany would never consent that Belgium should serve as a military or economic fortification against her or that she should be a vassal of France and Great Britain. He gave assurances that the Belgians would be permitted to work out the destiny corresponding to their natural gifts, based on their mother tongue and following the national character.

Tho the remembrance of the war would still echo in Belgium, Germany would not allow this to be a new source of war.

Orders More Motor Trucks.

Immediate necessity for lengthening General Pershing's lines of communication caused Secretary Baker to send telegraphic orders today for 108 more motor trucks and two gasoline tanks. There already are six companies with 1626 cars engaged in lines from Columbus. Secretary Baker said he was perfectly satisfied that under existing conditions and present campaign plans the motor service was adequate without using the railways.

No news came today regarding military developments or further details of the fighting between the American troops and the outlaws near Bachineva.

General Funston forwarded a message from General Pershing stating that the latter conferred Monday at Providencia with Colonel Dodd.

Providencia is about 30 miles north of Guerrero and only 20 miles beyond the southernmost end of motor communication lines at Naniquipa.

Officials believe General Pershing was at the front of the advance lines, and that the expedition is engaged in combating the country about Guerrero without proceeding in strength farther to the south.

CHARGE AMERICAN WITH MURDER.

Presidio, Texas, April 5.—An American citizen, Jose Rodriguez, of Presidio, has been arrested and is now in jail at Ojinaga, the Mexican town just across the Rio Grande on charges of killing Mayor Alberto Rodriguez last week. Jose Rodriguez is not a relative of Alberto, the mayor. He has lived in Presidio ever since he was a small boy. Residents of Presidio insist he is innocent and are taking steps in his behalf.

APPLIES FOR PARDON.

Springfield, Ill., April 5.—Application has been made by Dr. Haldane Clemenston, serving a life sentence in Joliet penitentiary for wife murder, to the state board of pardons for a pardon. It was learned Dr. Clemenston had applied for a pardon when it was announced today that the board would meet April 11 and adjourn immediately until April 17, because the first date is primary election day.

PASS JOINT RESOLUTION.

Washington, April 5.—A joint resolution directing the census bureau to collect and publish statistics of raw and prepared cotton and its products consumed in manufacture of explosives passed the house today, 169 to 129. The present law confines the statistics to raw cotton. The senate has not acted on the resolution. Minority Leader Mann led the opposition to the resolution.

MR. WISWELL RETURNS HOME.

Mr. Henry C. Wiswell, who accompanied the remains of his wife, Mrs. Mary Brown Wiswell, here for interment last week, expected to leave for home this morning. His residence is now in Rocheport, Mo.

Mr. Wiswell is one of the oldest families of Morgan county. His father came here from Massachusetts in 1820. He took up land south of town, on the "St. Louis road," where he built a fine house, about 1855. The elder Wiswell died soon after, and his wife and son came to town to live about 1856. Their home was at the southeast corner of State and Westminster streets. Mrs. Wiswell died at the age of 88 years, about 1890. She was one of our best women.

Henry C. Wiswell was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1864, and married Miss Mary Esther Brown, daughter of Judge Wm. Brown that fall. They were married in the house last occupied by E. S. Greenleaf which burned Thanksgiving Day, 1911. Mrs. Wiswell was the sister of the present Wm. Finley Brown of this city.

Mr. Wiswell visited Europe in 1861, accompanied by Prof. George B. Dodge of Illinois Female College. He was also an extensive traveler in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiswell were the parents of eight children, most of whom are married and settled.

The Wiswells first lived in what is now the Rees Browning house on Mound Ave., then about 1882, went to a farm east of this city, and in 1895 moved to Rocheport, Mo., near which place they have resided since.

Mrs. Wiswell was one of our most delightful ladies, and the older citizens feel her loss.

Mr. Wiswell will carry back the good wishes of old friends to his western home.

FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED AT ROODHOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gilmore Have Spent Long Life Together.

Roodhouse, April 5.—Half a century ago a man and a woman were married and so it happens that Mr. and Mrs. William P. Gilmore of this city have lived thru the years gone by casting a beneficial influence to those about them.

Monday, April 3, this aged couple passed the fifty year mark of wedded bliss, and a season of rejoicing was witnessed at the home in this city, which presented a beautiful appearance with its lovely floral decorations. The guests assembled were headed by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Van Doran and daughter, Miss Pauline; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilmore and children and Hal S. Gilmore of Roodhouse. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wolfe of East St. Louis. This comprised the family which gathered around the festive board to celebrate the occasion.

A brief summary of the life of William P. Gilmore gives one a fair idea into the business career of the men who helped to make this city what it is today. Many years ago Mr. Gilmore served in the capacity of county commissioner of Athensville township. Later he moved into the city of Roodhouse and became affiliated with the Roodhouse bank. His business methods soon elected him to a directorship, which he has retained to the present day, and his interests in that banking institution have placed it on a solid footing in the financial world. During the later years Mr. Gilmore has been engaged in raising and shipping beef cattle, and is probably as well known at the National stock yards market in St. Louis and Chicago as any shipper in the state.

No question of local importance, which involved matters of great interest were advanced unless his judgment had been passed along with others of the city who were loyal to its interests. His connection with church work has added also, its weight to the Baptist church organization, and this influence has been far reaching. Withal, "Old W. P. Gilmore," as he is affectionately termed, is one of the most valued citizens here.

SILK CONCERNS CHARGED WITH MISBRANDING

Washington, April 5.—The work of the Federal Trade Commission in policing the avenues of trade begins in dead earnest today, when a hearing will be held on the cases brought against New York and Philadelphia thread concerns, who are charged with unfair business practices. The members of these firms have been cited to appear today to show cause why they should not be restricted from continuing the alleged unfair practices.

The complaints charge that the firms manufactured and sold mercerized cotton thread as "silk," and that the product had no portion of silk. It is charged that to brand this sewing thread as "silk" is misleading, and the rival manufacturers have been injured in their business.

The commission's complaint sets forth that "the word silk when applied to thread or textile goods, both in the technical and popular usage has a precise and exact meaning, and is only accurately and properly used in describing materials derived from the cocoon of the silk worm."

MOVES INTO NEW OFFICE.

Joseph DeGoveia on Wednesday afternoon moved into his new office rooms on West Court street. For many years Mr. Goveia has occupied the room owned by L. W. Chambers on the south side of Court street. Recently he purchased the building of the Anheuser-Busch company. Two rooms of this building were fitted for W. D. Cody for the flour, feed and grocery business. The first room is the one Mr. DeGoveia remodelled for his own use. The front office was lined with beaver board. The decorations were by J. Mallen and Son and are the Tiffany brand, the same effect as that used in the main lobby of the Hotel Douglas. Back of the rear office is a private office which also will be used as drafting room. Back of this room is a room for the storing and cutting of glass, as Mr. Goveia makes a specialty of cutting and fitting wind shields and head lights glass for automobiles. Back of the glass storage room is the work shop. The room is modernly equipped and makes a most desirable office. Mr. Goveia will be glad to have his friends call on him in his new quarters.

O. F. CONKLIN FALLS

ON STAIRWAY

O. F. Conklin, prominent resident of the city slipped and fell while descending the stairs of the Central Union Telephone company Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock. Mr. Conklin was about five steps from the bottom and in falling struck his back on one of the steps. He was given assistance by those in the vicinity and for a time was unable to walk. E. E. Wells took Mr. Conklin home in his car and it is not believed that his fall will result seriously.

Denver, April 5.—Miss Joy Bailey daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Bailey, will be the bride today of Hunter Phelan of Phelan, Tex., a wealthy mine owner. The bride is one of the most prominent society girls of this city, and the groom is the son of Mrs. A. C. Loke of Peoria, Ill.

U. S. COAST SURVEY HAS COMPLETED CENTENNIAL.

Oldest Scientific Bureau in United States Has Good Record of Achievement.

Washington, April 5.—The oldest scientific bureau of the United States government, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, is celebrating today and tomorrow the one hundredth anniversary of the beginning of its field work. President Wilson, members of his cabinet, scientists and other will make addresses, and a big exhibition of the survey's work will be a leading feature.

The survey was established by Thomas Jefferson in 1811, and a noted Swiss scientist, Prof. Ferdinand H. Hassler, was its first superintendent. The first work of the bureau was done in New York bay in 1816, just a century ago. Dr. E. Lester Jones is the present head of the survey, having succeeded one year ago Otto H. Tittmann, who was forty-eight years in the service.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey is charged with the survey of the coasts of the United States and the publication of charts covering the base measure, triangulation, topography and hydrography of the coasts. It also surveys the rivers to the head of tidewater or ship navigation, makes deep sea soundings and observes temperatures and currents along the coasts. It has completed a big network of primary triangulation, which is the foundation for satisfactory political boundaries and the preparation of accurate nation, state and county maps. The survey issues the current information necessary to safe navigation, for it drags the seas for rocks and wrecks and warns the mariners of hidden dangers.

Opening Session.

The celebration opens this afternoon in the New National museum. The speakers will be Dr. Hugh M. Smith, U. S. commissioner of fisheries; Dr. Louis A. Bauer, director of the department of terrestrial magnetism, Carnegie institution; Dr. S. W. Stratton, director of the bureau of standards; Rear Admiral J. E. Pillsbury, U. S. N., retired, and Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey.

There will be another session this evening, at which the speakers will include Rep. J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, Brig. Gen. W. M. Black, chief of the corps of engineers of the army; George R. Putnam, commissioner of lighthouses; George W. Littlehales of the navy hydrographic office.

Tomorrow afternoon Prof. William H. Burr, professor of civil engineering at Northwestern university, will speak, as also will Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, U. S. N., retired; Dr. Otto H. Tittmann, president of the National Geographical society; Dr. Charles Lane Poor, professor of celestial mechanics at Columbia, and Dr. Douglas W. Johnson of Columbia.

The centennial celebration will close tomorrow evening with a banquet, at which the speakers will be President Wilson, Dr. Paul Ritter, minister from Switzerland; Hon. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and Dr. Thomas C. Mendenhall, the oldest living ex-superintendent of the survey.

Charting Alaska a Big Task.

The service of the Coast and Geodetic Survey is the greatest service of its kind in the world. It covers over 100,000 miles of coast line. The charting of Alaska alone is a greater problem than European nations have ever tackled along this line. Five vessels and numerous lives have already been sacrificed to these treacherous rocks of the sea.

The general plan of the survey was supplied by Prof. Ferdinand H. Hassler, an eminent Swiss scientist, who had left his country on account of the revolutionary conditions of the time. Hassler reached America in 1805 at the head of a colony of 120 persons organized by himself and three friends for settlement in North Carolina. Failure to receive any return from funds advanced for transportation and purchase of lands put him in financial straits, and the scientist was reduced to great hardships. Two years later he accepted a position as instructor at West Point. Jefferson chose Hassler to proceed to London for the purchase of instruments for the new survey. The War of 1812 caught him in England, and he was forced to remain there until the end of the war.

Early in 1816 he reached America with the instruments and in April began the practical work of the new department. A few years later, the work was interrupted by an economy movement, but it was resumed in 1852, with Dr. Hassler again at its head. Besides directing the coast survey, Hassler was in charge of the newly created office of weights and measures. He held the office for many years, devoting untiring energy to the conduct of the work. He died in harness in 1843.

ATTENDED FUNERAL.

M. Van Wyatt has returned from Springfield where he went to attend the funeral of his comrade in arms, F. H. Bruce. Mr. Bruce was the fifth one of the famous eight men referred to in the Journal a short time since to pass away. The eight went thru three years of strenuous war service, not one was sick, none went to the hospital at any time and the ranks of the eight were unbroken until a few years ago when John Criswell passed away.

ABOUT BOOKS.

"I read a great many novels," remarked the justice of the peace, "and their sameness is shocking to me. The same old plots, the same old characters, the same old treatment, yesterday, today and forever. If I were going to write a book, I'd try to make it different. It would be original, even if it had no other redeeming feature."

"Then you'd have to publish it at your own expense," said the bookseller. "Publishers get out books with a sordid view to making some money out of them, and the jobbers and retailers have similar hankerings. The book that is different may receive a lot of bouquets from the reviewers, but the tired business man doesn't buy it. Neither does anybody else. Instead of taking in handsome royalties, the author has to go and get a job shoveling snow, to buy refreshments for his insides."

"Bookbuyers don't want anything fresh. They like stories with whiskers, and the longer the whiskers, the better."

"A detective story is always a good seller. In this town there are many tired business men and eminent attorneys, and learned practitioners, and others of that class, who drop in every few days to see if there is a new detective story on the bargain counter."

"Goods of that character always are in demand. I think a detective story the greatest chestnut in the whole realm of literature. And the readers want it to be chestnutty. Every now and then some distinguished author writes a mystery story, and tries to make real literature of it, and that story invariably falls flat. The successful sleuth yarn must follow the old established lines. Any attempt at originality is bitterly resented."

"There should be a good satisfactory murder in the first chapter. Writers have tried other crimes, some with reasonable success, but the mysterious murder is the best basis for a sleuth yarn. The murder having been committed, the local police and official detectives are introduced, and they pull one bonehead after another, until you wonder how they escaped from the feeble-minded institute."

"These worthies being hopelessly balled up at last, the hero is introduced—the great detective, who takes cocaine, or drinks hair restorer, or does something to distinguish him from other men. The rest of the story deals with his miraculous astuteness, and winds up with his triumph. Any departure from this diagram will seriously interfere with the success of your mystery story. Of course, you have to have a Dr. Watson—that goes without saying."

INSURGENCY AT MOTHERS' CONGRESS

Nashville, Tenn., April 5.—The National Congress of Mothers, which had a brilliant opening here yesterday, has developed an interesting contest over the election of officers. An insurgency movement against Mrs. Frederick Schoff, the president of the national organization, has gained some headway. Many of the delegates are instructed to vote for the nomination of Mrs. Orville T. Bright of Chicago for the office. Mrs. Schoff has headed the movement for fourteen years. She is a Philadelphia woman, and it is said the movement against her began in her own state. It was charged that Mrs. Schoff had presented to the Pennsylvania legislature a bill allowing a ten-hour working day and vacation employment without age limit for children, and called this bill "the Pennsylvania Congress of Mothers bill," altho, it is said, the Pennsylvania state board had never heard of the measure and repudiated it afterwards.

The insurgents have framed drastic amendments to the constitution of the Mothers' Congress, to provide for a larger executive council, rotation in office and a change in the rule which now requires all national elections to be held in Washington. The sessions of the Congress are being held in the State Capitol. The Congress will be in session each day until Sunday. The delegates will be taken on a trip to the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson.

MINERS OF HOCKING DISTRICT MEET

Logan, O., April 5.—The annual convention of the mine-workers of the Hocking coal district, always known as the basing district of the state in the coal industry, opened here today. The delegates expect to complete their work by Saturday and to join with the committee of operators in a session next week at which the future basis of wages and employment conditions will be discussed.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS
SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad
Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.
Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, indigested food from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.
A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Adv.

Here's A 'Tip' On Rheumatism Follow It

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION

When your arm or your leg feels "all knotted" with rheumatism, when you feel as though your muscles were "tied up with a rope," you are really describing your pains accurately. Rheumatism is a condition of the body when acids and other deposits of impurities are actually "tied up" the strands of muscles in your body, or strangling the nerves and thus producing the awful shooting pains of sciatica, lumbago, etc. Medical authorities agree that these acid deposits are carried and deposited by the blood in the various parts of the body. It stands to reason, therefore, that local applications such as rubbing with so-called remedies can't do any permanent good. At best they can relieve the pain a little and only for a little while. The only way to effect a real cure is to attack the real cause—the blood. It is cleansed from the troublesome deposits by S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier that is now easing the pains and healing the ills of the third generation. S. S. S. "goes after" the impurities in the blood as relentlessly, as eagerly and as thoroughly as a ferret goes after rats; pursuing the poison into every vein and artery, into every nook and corner of the body, and chasing the out of the system. The blood thus cleansed, carries off the acid and other injurious deposits and "filters" them out of the body through the kidneys. S. S. S. is not a drug. It is a purely vegetable blood purifier. You can get S. S. S. at every drug store. But if in addition you should like to have the advice of the doctors in charge of our laboratory, do not hesitate to write us. You will receive free, conscientious and confidential advice. This is in line with our policy to make every effort to insure the best results from S. S. S. to every sufferer. Get a bottle at your drug-store's today. If you wish special advice, write to Medical Department, Room 45, Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

EUROPEAN WAR NOTES.

Amsterdam, April 5.—via London.—According to the Vissische Zeitung of Berlin, Lieutenant General Gottlieb Ferdinand Von Dorrer of the German army has died of wounds received on the battlefield.

London, April 5.—Fragments, supposedly of a torpedo that were found on the cross-channel steamer Sussex have been forwarded to Washington by Ambassador Page. On a high authority it is stated that the fragments were considered at the American embassy to be undoubtedly of German origin.

London, April 5.—That another Zeppelin ship, in addition to the L-15 was hit in the recent raids on England was a statement made by Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary of war, in the house of commons today. Mr. Tennant would not specify the place where the airship was hit, but said he had received knowledge of it thru a carbon copy of a wireless message sent by the commander of the Zeppelin which was picked upon the ground.

London, April 5.—A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says that according to diplomatic correspondence published by the Dutch foreign office bearing on the protest against seizure of mail by Great Britain the foreign minister contends that beyond all doubt the term "correspondence postale" used in The Hague convention covers stocks or other valuable deeds. Therefore, he further contends, belligerents are not entitled to confiscate them. The minister asks restitution of all documents of this nature that have been seized.

London, April 5.—The American steamer Sacramento of San Francisco, which came into public notice early in the war when the American government charged her with violation of the American neutrality laws in connection with supplying coal to German warships in the Pacific is included in the latest blacklist of neutral vessels issued by the admiralty. Charterers are warned not to use their steamer or any of the other vessels mentioned in the blacklist which is charged as being operated with capital of subjects at war with Great Britain or engaged in unneutral service.

Paris, April 5.—Women are now being employed in garrisons in the place of soldiers of the auxiliary service. The experiment, just begun at the headquarters of the 36th infantry of Caen, has proved so successful that the minister of war has suggested that the commanders of other garrisons use the services of women wherever it is possible. Thus the drafts of 1888 military class will be limited which will permit professional men to continue to attend to their regular duties and will give employment to the widows, mothers and sisters of soldiers killed. All the women used in the garrison are to be classified under the garrison of various chiefs of the service and will be placed according to their qualifications.

Washington, April 5.—Great Britain's reply to the representations of the United States regarding the thirty-eight Germans which were removed by a British cruiser from the American steamship China near Shanghai recently is understood to make it clear that the assertion of the right to remove subjects of an enemy country from a neutral ship on the high seas is limited strictly to persons who form part of the neutrality establishment of the enemy.

Publication of the British note which reached the state department yesterday has been delayed on account of some obscure passages in the cabled text. It is said, however, that it gives assurances that if investigation shows that there are among the men removed any who are not part of the German army or navy they will be released. The contention is that there is nothing inconsistent in this attitude with that assumed by the British government in the famous Mason and Sillid case arising during the Civil war when two confederate commissioners were removed by a federal warship from the British liner Trent.

MORAL—The wise man buys a Ford and builds up a balance in the bank.

Therefore, the Ford can be likened unto the wise man who built his house on a rock, and the rains and the wind came and beat upon that house and it fell not. So, also, the rain and winds come and make bad roads for the Ford but it never quits, for it is builded on a good foundation. All hail to the Ford!

And the man who buys an automobile can be likened unto the foolish man who builded his house on the sand, and the rain and winds came and beat upon that house and it fell, and great was the fall thereof. Woe be unto the man who builds his house upon the sands or buys an automobile. He will have trials and "trib-i-lashuns" all the rest of his days.

MORAL—Be like the wise man. Buy a Ford and put the rest in the bank

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two spoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsed coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Some Topics of the Farm

THE NEWLY HATCHED CHICK NEEDS GREAT CARE

No Part of the Work of Raising Poultry Will Pay Producer Better.

The early care of young chicks is extremely important, according to D. O. Barto of the department of poultry husbandry University of Illinois for the lack of care may cause exposure to conditions that will prove fatal or at least so seriously handicap their welfare that there will be no profit in raising them.

"When a little chicken whose embryonic development in the egg has occupied only twenty-one days, breaks out of his shell he is about as delicate a little piece of machinery as one can conceive," says Mr. Barto. "At first he looks so bright and active and independent, rolled up in his fluffy covering of down, that one is likely to overestimate his powers of endurance and resistance and expose him to conditions that will prove fatal or so seriously handicap him that there will be no profit in raising him."

"The newly hatched chick comes from the egg where the temperature has been kept within the limits of 102 and 105 degrees. It is unreasonable to think that he can thrive for the next several days in surroundings that are widely different in temperature."

"At first he is little more than a sack of bowels and other organs of digestion and respiration. For about three days after he is freed from the shell he will have all he needs and can do to digest and absorb the yolk of the egg which his body contained when he was hatched. After that period he is dependent on his friends for food."

"This should be easily digestible, clean and nutritious and given in small quantities frequently. The drink either water or sour milk, should be provided in vessels that can be kept easily clean and such that the chick cannot wet or soil himself."

"No part of the work of raising poultry will pay better returns than the special care given to the little chicks during the first two weeks of their lives."

"If they are incubator hatched, and therefore in bunches numbering fifty to two hundred more or less, much more attention is necessary than when they are hatched and mothered by hens."

"The best and most uniformly successful results that the writer has ever known were secured by placing the chicks when first taken from the incubator in boxes made of some material like beaver board about two by four feet dimensions, fifty chicks in a box, and keeping them in the windows of a warm living room, where they could be under the close observation of the members of the household. For the first three of four days after feeding begins they should be allowed to eat for a short time and then shut back in one end of the box under a light, ventilated cover where they are made to rest as they would do under the mother hen. This frequent resting in warm, comfortable quarters is one of the most important features in starting of successfully a brood of chicks."

"This sort of care and fussing with little chicks will not appeal to some people and they would do well to let the other fellow raise the chickens and later buy their stock from him."

STATE ORGANIZATIONS CALLED IN CONFERENCE

A Better Community Movement Begun in Which Many Agencies Will Have Part.

There are in Illinois at the present time over 100 state-wide organizations, commercial, industrial, agricultural, domestic, social, civic, educational, fraternal, religious, sports, etc. The purpose of these associations differ from the very nature of the work attempted. But it is becoming clearer year after year that there is a common meeting ground for all worthy, legitimate organizations. They are all related in one way or another to the various communities of the state. Community welfare is, therefore, the basis for common action of all these associations.

At a recent meeting of representatives of several of these state-wide organizations, plans were presented for a Better Community Movement. After discussing at length this A. B. C. Campaign, the plan was unanimously approved and a with-power-to-act committee appointed to take the necessary steps for furthering the whole movement. It was the expressed wish of all those present that a Community Conference be held at the University of Illinois in the near future to which should be invited (1) Representatives of all state-wide organizations (2) Citizens vitally interested in developing and advancing their communities. The university is inviting such a conference to be held June 20-22. The subjects for discussion at this conference will be the chief points to be taken into account in measuring the community itself.

In view of the approaching Centennial of Illinois, it is urged that this movement for a better community life be so organized and directed as to enable the state, between now and the end of the 100th anniversary year to take an inventory of stock. To this end the communities of the state are to be divided into groups (probably five); for example—(1) Cities above 10,000, of which there are 30 outside of Chicago (2) Cities of less than 10,000 and over 5,000, of which there are 41 in Illinois (3) Cities under 5,000 (4) Towns and villages (5) Open Country Communities. The plan outlined includes a competition between communities within these groups, along lines determined in advance, continuing say from September 1, 1916, to September 1, 1917, or some other period if it should seem wise to extend it. Several months will be required beyond that time to tabulate the results and determine which communities are best, in what points they are strong and in what weak. The plan further contemplates suitable awards to those places of greatest excellence. Such a task will require the hearty co-operation of the various organizations and forces of the state for the next two years. But such a movement is a unifying process and will make the Centennial celebration of Illinois a notable one. It will be wholesome for the people to know what the best communities are and what their elements of strength. It will give a new program to the press, a new voice to the pulpit, and an extended field of service for social workers.

Commercial clubs, women's clubs, civic leagues, parent teacher associations, rural organizations, municipal leagues, schools, colleges, normal schools, churches, the press, libraries, etc., have in such a movement a common ground of action. The co-operation of all these forces will bring results otherwise impossible.

Remember the time—June 20-22; the place—Urbana-Champaign; the object—A Better Communities Movement.

PRICES GOOD AT SHEPPARD SALE.

Personal property belonging to the estate of the late J. J. Sheppard was sold at auction Wednesday at the farm six miles southeast of Jacksonville. The attendance was not as large as at some sales because this was an especially busy time, but bidding was never more spirited and everything sold well. The sale totaled something over $3,000. A great many implements, vehicles and household articles such as are always accumulated during a long period of years were included, so that the auctioneers did not get to the livestock until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Capt. John E. Wright and C. Justus Wright were the auctioneers and they had a mighty busy day. W. B. Wright of Murrayville was the clerk. The sale total was about one third more than the appraised value. Livestock sales were as follows:

L. B. Trotter, two cows at $92 and $100 respectively.
Henry Scott, cow $97.50.
Henry Paul, four cows at $90, $91, $92.50 and $76 respectively.
Henry Paul, two heifers at $45 and $68 respectively.
Henry Paul, four steers at $70 each, and two at $50 each.
C. D. Irlam, black Polled bull, $63.
Sylvester Sheppard, blind mare, $202.50.
Henry McGhee, bay mare $205.
Henry Paul, bay mare $209.
Harry Tarzwell, bay horse $140, and black team $317.50.
Sylvester Sheppard, 8 shoats at $8.50 a head.

Important Points in Applying Illinois System of Permanent Fertility.

Raw phosphate has little or no value as a top dressing but it must be thoroughly incorporated with the soil before its full benefit can be secured. Keep in mind that raw phosphate should be well distributed where the roots feed and that this is chiefly between 2 inches and 7 inches beneath the surface.

While distinct benefit sometimes results, especially on the clover crop, when raw phosphate is applied and well disked in, as on plowed ground or on cornstalk land where clover is to be seeded with small grain, much better results are secured after the phosphate is more thoroughly mixed with the plowed stratum to a depth of 6 or 7 inches.

It is true that some benefit results from the use of raw phosphate with no special provision for decay of organic matter especially on soil fairly well supplied with humus and most deficient in phosphorus, and clover is usually the first crop to show such benefit, but the best results are not to be expected until plenty of decaying organic matter is turned under in intimate contact with the phosphate.

From the standpoint of getting the quickest results from the phosphate, the ideal method is to apply it with manure or with a good growth of clover, mix the phosphate with the organic matter and the soil by thoroughly disking and then plow. Dr. C. G. Hopkins, in The Farmers' Review, Chicago.

Mr. Curry Bought Cattle.

A. A. Curry was in St. Louis yesterday and purchased two car loads of steers for his father-in-law, Iven Wood. The cattle averaged 850 lbs., and cost Mr. Wood $7.45 per hundred. Commenting on market conditions Mr. Curry said that all livestock is very high and that there are no indications of lower market levels.

SEE IT! When You Can. SEE IT!

PIMPPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Olive Tablets. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

They Let Him Sleep Soundly

"Since taking Foley Kidney Pills I believe I am entirely cured and I sleep soundly all night." H. T. Strayge.

Take two of Foley Kidney Pills with a glass of pure water after each meal and at bedtime. A quick and easy way to put a stop to your getting up time after time during the night.

Foley Kidney Pills also stop pain in back and sides, headaches, stomach troubles, disturbed heart action, stiff and aching joints, and rheumatic pains due to kidney and bladder ailments.

Gainesville, Ga., R. R. No. 2. Mr. H. T. Strayge says: "For ten years I've been unable to sleep all night without getting up. Sometimes only a few minutes after going to bed I'd have to get up, and I tried everything I heard of for the trouble. Last year I tried Foley Kidney Pills and after taking one bottle I believe I am entirely cured and I sleep soundly all night."

SAFE HOME TREATMENT FOR OBJECTIONABLE HAIRS.

(Boudoir Secret.)

The electric needle is not required for the removal of hair or fuzz, for with the use of plain delatone the most stubborn growth can be quickly banished. A paste is made with water and a little of the powder, then spread over the hairy surface. In about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment not only removes the hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.—Adv.

VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects. Physicians recognize this and prescribe may-apple root (podosphyllin, they call it) daily.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santal Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

These tablets are small, easy to take and are really wonderful little performers. They quickly clean out the poisons that are causing you headache, constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, dizzy spells, bad breath and coated tongue.

They are mild. They never gripe. And they are a bowel tonic as well as a cleanser and liver regulator. A 10c box should last one several weeks. A Physician's trial package (4 doses) will be mailed you free if you write mentioning this advertisement. The Santal Remedies Co., 802 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Funeral of Hardin and Return of Volunteers

By Ensley Moore.

Member Illinois State Historical Society.

There have been four great public funerals in Jacksonville. The first was that of Gov. Joseph Duncan in January, 1844; the second, Col. John J. Hardin, July 14, 1847; the third, Col. Matthew H. Starr, in 1864, and that of Governor and U. S. Senator Yates, in November, 1873.

Of course there was great excitement in this town and the neighborhood, owing to the approaching funeral of two heroes of the Mexican War, and the return of the Volunteers. These events occurring at about the same time caused a mingling of the arrangements for the reception and the funeral.

The Morgan Journal of July 10, 1847, devoted a large part of its space to the interesting occasions. The population of the town was then about 2,500; that of the county about 15,000.

The Journal of the date above mentioned, had as its editorial leader, an article headed:

"RECEPTION OF THE VOLUNTEERS! GIVE THEM A HEARTY WELCOME!"

Then followed these glowing words:

"As the volunteer army of the United States is the natural defense of the country, to which it must look in all times of peril for sufficient protection and support, we cannot too warmly celebrate the return of those heroes, whose unparalleled bravery and gallant conduct during the last twelve months, have supported the fame of the nation, and at the same time insured its future security. The present crisis has afforded an opportunity for many persons to distinguish themselves by acts equally honorable to their bravery and generosity, and no body of men in a greater degree, than the First Regiment of Illinois Volunteers."

We wish then, that WEATHER-FORD and WARREN, and the other brave men whose return we are about to celebrate, should be received in a spirit worthy of Old Morgan, and the men who "don't know when they are beat." These men are our own fellow citizens; taken from our midst by a purely patriotic enthusiasm; boldly acquainting themselves with toil and danger in the service of their country; from the outset of their career until the present time, modest, gallant, and self-sustained.

Let us do justice then, without stint, to these noble lights in the constellation of our country's patriots; let us do it, as an appropriate tribute to their gallantry and merit, and to express our gratitude and admiration, as their fellow countrymen."

After this follows an editorial headed, "The Monument", suggesting such a memorial to those who hand fallen. The monument probably never was erected. The handsome marble shaft at the grave of Hardin was no doubt placed there by his family.

The Journal was issued on Saturday, in those days.

In the next column was an editorial headed "Return of the Volunteers," this begins, "On Wednesday night and Thursday morning of this week, between twenty-five and thirty of the volunteer privates of the First Regiment, citizens of this county, reached this place". It then goes on to give some reports as to the return of the others, and the article ends with a joint letter from Warren and Weatherford, to the editor of the Missouri Republican, thanking the people of St. Louis for their offer of a reception, and for expressions of sympathy in the loss of Col. Hardin.

Next came the following announcement:

"VOLUNTEERS AT HOME"

Since our paper was put in press, the Volunteers from this County have arrived at this place, bringing with them the remains of the lamented Hardin.

The body of Capt. Zabriskie, we learn has been sent to his native State, (New Jersey), by way of the Ohio river; and that of Lieut. Houghton, to Winchester.

The funeral of Col. Hardin will take place on Wednesday next."

Under the head of Mexican News, this item, from the N. O. Picayune of March 30, is given: "As regards the prospects for peace, they appear just as distant as ever. A peace patched up at the city of Mexico at this time, will hardly last until the ink is dry with which it may be signed: certainly not until the Americans are out of the country."

Reference is made to a meeting of Masons in Chicago, thus:

"The festival of St. John the Baptist was celebrated on Thursday, 24th inst., and an address was delivered by Jas. A. McDougal, Esq., embracing a eulogy of their distinguished brother, Gen. Hardin." Resolutions were also adopted by the craft. Mr. McDougal had been a lawyer here, married a daughter of Gen. Murray McConnell, of this place and afterwards went to California. By that state he was sent to the United States senate, in about the year 1824.

The following, two columns wide appeared on the third page of the Journal:

NOTICE.

The Committee of Arrangements for the reception of the 1st Regiment of Illinois Volunteers, and the funeral of the late Col. John J. Hardin and Capt. Jacob W. Zabriskie give notice that on Wednesday, the 14th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m., the funeral will take place.

After the close of the burial services, a cold collation will be served up, in the grove near the place of burial.

The citizens of Morgan County are requested to provide bountifully for the repast in the grove. It is confidently expected that they will comply, very cheerfully, with this request.

Philip Coffman, Jas. Harkness, Jos. J. Cassell, Jas. Jackson, Wm. Hurst, Geo. Dunlap, Ira Davenport, J. W. King, J. O. King, John McDonald, J. W. Lathrop, Nath'l Coffin, Geo. Rearick, John Crocker, Wm. Hamilton, and Matthew Stacy, have been appointed a committee to receive the provisions for the occasion. They may be delivered to any of these gentlemen, or at the store of Philip Coffman, on next Tuesday evening, or early the following morning.

By order of the Committee: W. W. Happy, Chairman. Jacksonville, July 8th, 1847."

The grove referred to was on the ground now included in the west part of the East cemetery, being about half of the present enclosure.

On the fourth page of the Journal was the following announcement of arrangements:

The Hon. Wm. Brown was Judge Brown.

GRANT LEAVE TO FILE MANDAMUS PETITION

SUPREME COURT ACTION INDICATES EARLY DECISION IN SCHOOL CASE.

Attorneys for School Trustees Will File Early Answer Setting Forth Contentions That Law Passed by Legislature Repealing the Charter Is Invalid—General Facts Admitted.

The supreme court at Springfield yesterday granted permission to file petition for writ of mandamus in the Jacksonville school case. An order was entered allowing the motion and issuing a summons returnable in five days. This means that an answer must be filed within that time in behalf of the township trustees, who by agreement declined to call an election to organize under the general law. The order of the court indicates to local people that an early decision of the school case may be expected and that within a very few weeks' time it will be known whether the Jacksonville schools are to be operated under the special charter or the general law.

Early Decision Expected.

If the court finds that the law adopted by the legislature abolishing the school charter is unconstitutional it is understood that school conditions will then be as they were prior to the first of March and the board will, no doubt, then proceed to call an election for members in the third and fourth wards. If on the other hand the law is declared constitutional it will then be the duty of the township trustees to speedily meet and organize the Jacksonville school district and then within ten days to call an election for members of the board.

Judge M. T. Layman, J. Marshall Miller and John M. Butler, attorneys acting in behalf of the trustees, had their final conference yesterday in preparation of their answer to the claims given by attorneys for Mr. Rogerson, and this answer will probably be filed with the court today. A subsequent time will be fixed either for oral argument or for the filing of briefs. The reply prepared by the attorneys mentioned admits the general facts laid down in the bill filed by Mr. Rogerson's attorneys, but questions the authority of the legislature to pass a law abolishing a special charter and making it applicable only to Jacksonville. The answer is in the following language:

Admit General Facts.

"The joint and several answers of William A. Crawley, C. E. James and Frank Wingler, as trustees of schools of township 15 north and range 10 west of the 3d principal meridian, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois, to the petition of the people of the state of Illinois on the relation of George S. Rogerson for writ of mandamus, these defendants for answer to said petition or so much thereof as is deemed material for them to make answer to, answering say:

First—These defendants admit that by an act of the general assembly of the state of Illinois approved Feb. 15, 1867, the city of Jacksonville, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois, was reincorporated; and that by article 11 of said act of reincorporation provision was made for the organization and government of a system of graded schools in said city as is alleged in and by said petition herein filed; and that said act of reincorporation is clearly set out in said petition.

Second—These defendants further admit that by an act of the legislature of the state of Illinois approved March 29, 1869, said article 11 of the charter of the city of Jacksonville, in relation to the organization and government of a system of graded schools was amended and that said amendment to said act is clearly set out in said petition.

Third—These defendants further answering admit that the general assembly of the state of Illinois passed an act entitled, "An act to repeal article 11 of an act entitled, 'An act to incorporate the city of Jacksonville, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois,' approved Feb. 15, 1867, as amended by an act approved March 29, 1869," approved June 25, 1915, and defendants further admit that in and by said last mentioned act the legislature of the state of Illinois attempted to repeal the said special charter of the city of Jacksonville as amended, organizing said city of Jacksonville into Jacksonville school district.

Say Special Act Unconstitutional. Fourth—Further answering, these defendants admit that on March 1, 1916, and at the time of the filing of the petition herein, they were and still are the duly elected and acting trustees of schools of township 15 north and range 10 west, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois; and that said township includes the said city of Jacksonville.

Fifth—These defendants further answering, admit that they held a special meeting as said trustees of schools of the said township on, to-wit, March 2, 1916, and the record of said proceedings of said meeting is clearly set out in and by the petition herein filed.

Sixth—Further answering, these defendants say that the act of the general assembly of Illinois, passed June 25, 1915, purporting to repeal article 11 of an act entitled, "An act to incorporate the city of Jacksonville, in the county of Morgan and state of Illinois," approved Feb. 15, 1867, as amended by an act approved March 29, 1869, is unconstitutional and void, being in contravention of section 22 of article 4 of the constitution of the state of Illinois; and that said article 11 of said special act incorporating the city of Jacksonville is still in full force and effect.

Seventh—Further answering, these defendants deny that it was or is now their duty to organize the territory of the city of Jacksonville into a school district, and to call an election for the election of a board of education pursuant to the provisions of section 43 of the general school law.

Cite Former Elections. Eighth—Further answering, these defendants aver that three different times pursuant to section 51 of the general school law, elections were held in the city of Jacksonville, Illinois, to determine the question of organizing Jacksonville school district under the general school law, and that on each of said elections a majority of the legal voters voted against organizing said school district under the general school law aforesaid.

"And now, having fully answered, these defendants pray the judgment of the honorable court that the said petitioner under the facts shown, ought not to have a writ of mandamus as in his said petition prayed."

FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY DIES AT ARKANSAS HOME

Avon Oran Sumner, Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Sumner, Passes Away at Gentry.

Word has been received here of the death at Gentry, Ark., of Avon Oran Sumner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Sumner and a former Jacksonville resident. Regarding the death and funeral the Gentry Journal Advance has the following to say:

Avon Oran Sumner, son of W. N. and Lilly Sumner, was born at Rogers, Benton county, Ark., Jan. 26, 1894. When a small child the family moved to Jacksonville, Ill., where they resided until 1906, when they removed to Katy, Texas, and from there to Gentry. Some two months ago Avon professed his faith in Jesus Christ when about 15 years of age and was buried with his Lord in Christian baptism. There being no church of his faith he took membership in the M. E. church south, at Katy, Texas. Being of a retiring disposition he never became an active church worker but lived a quiet Christian life, free from the evil habits in which so many young people are engulged, loved and honored by the entire community in which he moved.

He passed away to the great beyond at his parents' home two miles northwest of Bloomfield, March 2, at 3 a. m., leaving behind his father and mother, W. N. and Lilly Sumner, an older brother, Ira Norman, and his wife, Myra, a twin sister, Mrs. Alta T. Peek and husband, Roy, sisters Elsie and Capitola Lilly, his grandparents, Mrs. J. Rudkin and O. J. and E. J. Sumner. While apparently of robust youth he had suffered for years with stomach trouble, which with pneumonia, brought about uncontrollable complications that resulted in his early death.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church, Friday, March 3, at 11:30 a. m., conducted by the pastor, E. L. Mayfield, and burial was had in Gentry cemetery.

GREAT SEAT SALE RECORDED AT GRAND FOR "BIRTH OF A NATION"

Unprecedented Demand for Reservations—Still Good Seats Obtainable for Any of Five Performances.

Manager Johnson of the Grand Opera House was able to report a record business yesterday, the advance sale for "The Birth of a Nation," totaling more than $2,000. Seats for all five performance have had an unprecedented demand and practically all balcony seats are gone. There are, however, excellent lower floor reservations obtainable for any night or either matinee. The first presentation is to be next Monday and it is a very safe prediction that every seat in the house will be occupied. Jacksonville people and in the surrounding territory will certainly not miss the opportunity of seeing this stupendous film production, and the only safe way to make certain of securing a seat is by early application at the box office or thru the mail.

"The Birth of a Nation" has been billed in railroad towns and cities throughout an area extending thirty or forty miles in each direction from the city. In addition to proving a time of exceptional pleasure for the people, the numerous visitors from outside points will be certain to make general business good. "The Birth of a Nation" it is said has never before been secured for a city of this size.

"YE MUST BE BORN ANEW" THEME AT REVIVAL SERVICE

Rev. Mr. Flagg Draws Lessons from Words of Apostle John at Centenary M. E. Church—Six Persons Received Into Membership.

"Ye must be born anew," John 3:7, was the theme of the Rev. G. W. Flagg in a strong sermon delivered Wednesday night at the Centenary M. E. church revival service. The new birth is essential, all men must undergo it, said the pastor.

Six persons were received into membership at the service last night. In addition to the regular opening song service, Miss Catherine Rapp and Miss Dorothy Smith sang, "My Mother's Prayer." Just before the sermon Mr. Moon sang, "Throw out the Life Line." At the close he gave "Ye Must Be Born Anew."

Following are the places and leaders for the forenoon prayer meetings today.

First ward—At the home of Mrs. H. C. Busby, 332 East Court street; leader, Mrs. J. E. Stice.

Second ward—At the home of Mrs. Claude Vall, 716 West North street; leader, Mrs. Elmer Garey.

Third ward—At the home of Mrs. W. H. Weatherford, 435 East College avenue; leader, Mrs. C. H. Davis.

Fourth ward—At the home of Mrs. E. L. Kinney, 197 South Prairie street; leader, Mrs. G. W. Flagg.

"If we believe in life beyond the grave," said Rev. Mr. Flagg, "we must believe it possible for the soul to be born anew. The moment of a soul's entrance into heaven is the moment of its new birth there. But why does God have to wait till that moment to give the soul a new birth? Is it not possible for Him to give it a new birth here as well as there?"

"The birth into Heaven will have no effect on the body, yet the soul will know it took place. Then why look for a certain kind of bodily experience here as marking the moment of the new birth? All we need to know is that Jesus will tell the soul when He does the work; the soul will know it to be true, and the bodily, or mental, experience will be whatever the soul does with the body or mind in the joy of that moment. The soul may want to shout, or sing, or simply quietly enjoy the great peace of it all."

"But the experience is essential; we must have it. Jesus said it to the best class of men of His day, and the best of our day cannot be without it. We are plainly told how we can obtain it, and to help you get that experience we are here tonight."

SPECIAL NUMBER OF COLLEGE GREETINGS

The College Greetings, published by students of the Woman's college, and just issued by the Roach Press, contains this month forty pages of interesting matter and several special art features. In each copy there is enclosed as a front-piece an original photograph of Edward Dufner's "Portrait of a Friend" one of the largest and most beautiful pictures of the art exhibit, brought to a close Wednesday. As a head to the article on "The Exhibition of American Oil Paintings" is a photo of Chauncey R. Ryder's "Pack Monarch." The April number of the Greetings represents an amount of work much above the ordinary on the part of its staff and is in all respects a handsome volume.

ELECTRIC LINE PROJECT TO SPRINGFIELD IS REVIVED

News-Record Prints Story that Line Is to be Built in 1917—J. H. MacFarlane Is Quoted.

The project of the Springfield & Jacksonville electric railway which came near being an actual fact a few years ago has been revived, according to Springfield News-Record. That paper yesterday had the following story, which once more gives more basis for the belief that the project is not yet wholly dead:

"Plans which insure the completion of the Springfield & Jacksonville Electric railway during the year 1917, have recently been perfected, railroad officials here say. Announcement is made thru J. H. MacFarlane of this city, General Manager for the company organized to connect Springfield and Jacksonville by an electric line in 1910, that the work is to be carried to completion soon."

"With the exception of a few small stretches, the entire forty miles of right of way was purchased in 1910, and considerable work was done in preparation of the roadbed. The members of the company, after expending $250,000 in securing a right of way and in construction work and for material, gave up the idea of carrying the project thru at that time. This action was due to general financial conditions prevailing throughout the country."

"All arrangements for further financing the enterprise for approximately $400,000 had been practically completed, when the outbreak of the European war again interfered with the financing of the road. A number of those interested in the undertaking favored reviving the work during the present year, but after the matter had been thoroughly considered by all parties interested, it was deemed advisable to not begin the work this year. When activities are again renewed, they will be of such magnitude as to carry them forward rapidly."

"Recently in the circuit court a judgment by default was obtained against the company for $918.85, by C. S. Simons. According to Mr. MacFarlane this judgment will be set aside, as it was for supplies, groceries and other like goods furnished to sub-contractors, for which the company is not responsible."

Jacksonville Lodge No. 570 A. F. and A. M. will hold a special and stated meeting tonight at 6:30. Lunch will be served. Visiting brethren cordially welcomed.

HENRY W. MUEHLHAUSEN, SR., LAID TO REST WEDNESDAY

Impressive Services at Centenary Church in Charge of Rev. G. W. Flagg—Burial at East Cemetery.

Funeral services for Henry W. Muehlhausen Jr., were held at Centenary M. E. church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the presence of a large number of sorrowing friends. Burial was made in Jacksonville cemetery. The Rev. G. W. Flagg, pastor of the church, was in charge and the Rev. W. E. Spoons, pastor of Northminster church, assisted. A quartet sang, "Asleep in Jesus" and "Abide with Me." The singers were Miss Clara Ranson, Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, A. C. Metcalf and Rex J. Moon. The many floral gifts were cared for by Misses Lucy Muehlhausen, Minnie Muehlhausen, Marie Seibert and Mae Kerschner. The bearers were D. T. Heinlich, W. C. Howe, Otto Eckles, George Siegfried, James Dickens and Charles Glossop.

Taking as his text: Revelation, 2:15, "Therefore are they before the throne of God," Rev. Mr. Flagg said in part: "The Christian life is of necessity pioneering. Living for Christ means meeting difficulties so long as the whole world is not won over to Christ and His will, hence every Christian before the throne may be said to have come out of the 'great tribulation.'"

"But deeds alone do not entitle one to heaven. One must be arrayed for the court of Heaven, and that is only the garment washed white in the blood of the Lamb."

"The past and the future are gathered round this text, for those around the throne are not only there because they have done something, but because they are to serve forever where there is the joy of eternal morning and its freshness of service, and God will Shepherd them thru the unending ages of happiness."

D. A. R. MEMBERS WILL AID IN SELLING BELGIAN FLAGS

Saturday Special Sale Day and Hope Is that $1,000,000 May be Raised to Help Relieve Suffering in Belgium.

Members of Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. are taking active interest in the D. A. R. campaign for the sale of Belgian flags to aid in the relief of the suffering in Belgium. Saturday, April 8, has been fixed as a special flag day by the national D. A. R. board. The little flags are now on sale and can be secured at a cost of 7c or more. The 7c figure was chosen because this represents the exact cost of feeding a Belgian for one day. It is the expectation that 10,000,000 flags will be sold by the several D. A. R. chapters and that by this means a million dollars may be raised in one day for the relief of the three million destitute in Belgium and northern France.

In a statement Mrs. William Cummings Story, President General of the D. A. R., said: "It is truly not too much to ask that each of the 100,000,000 people in the United States on Belgium (Tag) Flag Day, next Saturday, contribute his full quota of the sum of $1,000,000 we are asking to relieve the innocent and helpless victims of the world's tragedy abroad. It is the earnest wish of the D. A. R. that each American will join with the D. A. R. in our efforts to awaken the American people to a firmer realization of their duty to our flag and for that for which it stands."

"It is the first time in the history of the world that so many women workers have joined forces in humanity's cause. Women of America, your sisters in Belgium cry out to you, you cannot forsake them in their hour of need."

Mrs. Story called attention to the fact that America has undertaken as a duty to humanity the task of keeping the gallant little nation alive. America should not, cannot, fail in that duty now, after fifteen months of endeavor which stands as a monument to American business efficiency and our country's generosity to those in need.

Mrs. Story further said that the minimum amount asked by the D. A. R. for the Belgian flags next Saturday will be 7 cents. This is the ration for one destitute person for one day. "The Belgian people are straining every effort to provide the large part of the amount required," continued Mrs. Story, "but their resources are being rapidly drained and they must now depend on America and the rest of the charitable world for help. This help must be forthcoming not alone today, but tomorrow and every day thereafter, even after peace has been declared, until these people can reorganize and help themselves."
